

A MULTI-LANGUAGE INTERNATIONAL WEBINAR

For parents of children and adolescents with MPNS

CREATED BY COLLABORATION BETWEEN UK AND FRENCH PATIENT GROUPS

The Idea

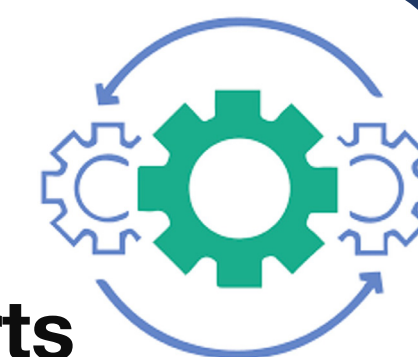

In Warsaw September 2024, Nona Baker from MPN Voice met Karin Tourmente-Leroux from Vivre Avec Une NMP

They discussed the challenges faced by parents when their children are diagnosed with an MPN.

Karin had already created a book called “Dis Maman, c’est quoi, une NMP?” (“Mum, what is an MPN?”) to help explain MPNs in a way kids would understand.

Nona and Karin discussed collaborating to create a webinar designed especially for parents of children with MPNs

The Process

Engage with Technical Experts

The technical team in the UK explained how real-time translation and transcription tools could be used to deliver a multi-language event

Recruit Specialist Speakers

Through their contacts, Nona and Karin were able to recruit world-class MPN specialists:

Prof Claire Harrison

Prof Jean-Jacques Kiladjian

Dr Juan Carlos Hernández-Boluda

Give a Human Touch

Alice Watson and her mother, Pam agreed to share the story of Alice’s diagnosis and provide advice for other young people and patients

Practice

A full technical rehearsal was performed to make sure that all the technology worked as planned and the presenters knew what to expect on the day of the live webinar

The Challenge

From the beginning, Nona and Karin knew it would be difficult

How to make the webinar accessible to British and French audiences, simultaneously?

How to enable expert MPN specialists to deliver their presentations in multiple languages?

English recording - Young People and Adolescents with MPNs virtual forum - YouTube

On 21 January 2025, the live webinar took place.

Nona and Karin introduced the event - their voices were translated automatically in real time

Attendees were able to listen to presentations translated into English, French and Spanish.
